Rezin Orthopedics and Sports Medicine Awards Two Scholarships

September 3, 2009- Rezin Orthopedics and Sports Medicine is proud to announce two scholarship winners have been selected.

The recipients, Melissa Budach of Morris and Grant Reed of Ottawa were each awarded $1000 to be contributed towards their education.

This is the sixth year Rezin Orthopedics and Sports Medicine has awarded two local students with scholarships to continue their education within the medical field. Forty-three scholarship applicants applied.

Budach is currently perusing a nursing degree with Joliet Junior College, while Reed is a student with the University of Illinois, majoring in Molecular and Cellular Biology.

The scholarships are awarded to qualified, college bound students with an interest in pursuing a medical career.

“It was a pleasure to award and meet these hard working students,” Keith Rezin, M.D. of Rezin Orthopedics and Sports Medicine said.

As the leading provider of orthopedic surgery and sports medicine, with six orthopedic surgeons, one spine surgeon, a physiatrist and two podiatrists, Rezin Orthopedics has clinics in Morris, Ottawa, Joliet, Bolingbrook and Plainfield.
